

The Washington Legal Clinic for the Homeless

legalclinic.org
(202) 328-5500

The Washington Legal Clinic for the Homeless' mission is to use the law to help any individuals who may need help or trying to seek justice for a wrong committed against them.

They also help their clients acquire access to housing, education, and other life-saving services.

theonedayproject.co

Free Legal Help
In the Washington D.C. Area

Legal Aid Society of D.C.

legalaiddc.org
(202) 628-1161

It is a non-profit organization providing free legal assistance and direct representation to D.C. residents. They specialize in public benefits law and domestic violence/family law. They also offer translation services for their clients.

Legal Aid volunteers and staff conduct interviews with applicants seeking assistance on certain days. In addition, Legal Aid meets applicants at various intake centers across the district. Call to inquire for future locations where meetings will be held.

Neighborhood Legal Services Program

nlsp.org
(202) 832-6577

Neighborhood Legal Services Program is a nonprofit law firm that provides free legal information, advice, and representation to low-income District of Columbia residents. Their mission is to provide equal access to justice for all members in the community.

Additionally, they NLSP provide advice and counsel, brief services, and even in-court representation. The level of service provided is dependent on each case.

D.C. Bar Pro Bono Center

www.dcbar.org
(202) 737-4700

The D.C. Bar Pro Bono Center recruits and trains local lawyers to make legal services available to individuals and families currently living in poverty in the District of Columbia. This organization makes sure their volunteer attorneys are well trained for taking on pro bono cases for all individuals who need legal assistance within their community.

They are an independent, nonprofit organization that is supported entirely by voluntary contributions from individuals and businesses in the community.